Lenny & Lucy By Philip C. Stead

Peter and his father are moving to a new house beyond the dark unfriendly woods. When they arrive at their new home, Peter wants to turn back. Fortunately, he has Harold for company, but Harold is just a dog and can't help Peter. Scared of the things hidden in the woods, Peter makes a tall pile of pillows. He stiches and sews. He pushes and pulls. And when he is done, he has Lenny, Guardian of the Bridge, to protect him and Harold.

Lenny is a good guard but Peter worries that Lenny will get lonely out by the woods all by himself, so he makes Lucy, who is a good friend. Together, Lenny, Lucy, Peter, and Harold discover that this new place isn't so scary after all.

Editorial Review

From School Library Journal

PreS-Gr 2—Peter and his dog Harold are unhappy to find themselves on a journey with their dad through the dark woods on their way to a new home. Peter thinks the move is a terrible idea and if Harold weren't a dog, even he would do something about it. However, the decision has been made and Peter strongly dislikes the ominous looking trees that sit waiting darkly across the wooden bridge by the new house. The woods could be filled with terrible creatures. That first night, Peter and Harold cannot sleep. The next day, Peter takes action by creating a watchman, Lenny, out of pillows and blankets to guard the bridge. This is better, but something is still not quite right. Lenny needs a friend. So Peter and Harold create Lucy and the four become fast friends, making the home by the woods not so bad after all. Then they welcome Millie, who lives next door and likes looking for owls. This timeless story of a boy using his imagination to cope with loss and acclimate to a new environment is sure to draw in readers of all ages. The text is wonderfully imaginative and the mysterious nature of the woods lends feelings of excitement and intrigue. The illustrations perfectly match the mood of the tale, with the backgrounds created in cold grayscale and the characters popping to life with warm oranges, greens, and blues. VERDICT A wonderfully creative story of resilience and friendship.—Amy Shepherd, St. Anne's Episcopal School, Middleton, DE

Review

“A quiet, comforting tale of finding where you belong.” ?Booklist

“A wonderfully creative story of resilience and friendship.” ?School Library Journal, starred review

“Hypnotic artwork and storytelling invite children to linger in the wild woods of worry and emerge intact, enriched, and utterly invigorated by this complex, contemporary fairy tale.” ?Kirkus Reviews, starred review

“Erin Stead uses faded grays for the alien forest and warm, quiet color for the story's living souls. What stands out is the Steads' (Bear Has a Story to Tell) ability to evoke the wordless intimacy and companionship that every child needs—and will make for themselves, if necessary.” ?Publishers Weekly, starred review

This phenomenal book will give you a lot of advantages than the other book have such as help improving your talent and your critical thinking method. So , still want to hold off having that book? If I were being you I will go to the e-book store hurriedly.

Houston Estes:

As a pupil exactly feel bored for you to reading. If their teacher inquired them to go to the library in order to make summary for some reserve, they are complained. Just little students that has reading's internal or real their pastime. They just do what the instructor want, like asked to go to the library. They go to there but nothing reading critically. Any students feel that looking at is not important, boring and can't see colorful pics on there. Yeah, it is to become complicated. Book is very important to suit your needs. As we know that on this time, many ways to get whatever we really wish for. Likewise word says, ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this Lenny & Lucy can make you feel more interested to read.
